Civil Rights Bill Dead Now?

Ike Said Unhappy About Senate Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower was pictured today as "damn unhappy" about the Senate vote adding a jury trial amendment to the civil rights bill. Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said the action probably means the bill is dead for this year.

Sen. Potter (R-Mich) reported on Eisenhower's reaction after a call at the White House this morning to discuss another matter with the President. Without elaborating, Potter told newsmen "the President is damn unhappy" about losing the fight against the jury trial amendment.

Knowland's view that the bill may be dead as far as this session of Congress is concerned was not shared by some other backers of the bill. And Sen. Russell (D-Ga) held out a possibility that some Southern opponents may even vote for the bill if a few more changes are made.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, said he had "no alibis."

Mother of 4 Brutally Slain

Toledo Police Probe Strangulation Case

TOLEDO (AP) — The nude body of a pretty auburn-haired mother was found beside a postoffice substation today. Coroner Paul Hohley said she apparently had been raped and strangled.

Dr. Hohley identified the woman as Mrs. Anna Louise LaTour, 22, mother of four children.

Her body, a blue party dress crumpled beneath it, was found by a postoffice employee, Richard K. Hardenbrook.

Mrs. LaTour, cook-manager of a concession in National Lead Co., was seen early this morning in the Gaiety Club on Monroe street near the postoffice station.

Her body was in a 2½-foot space between the postoffice station and a mail truck which Hardenbrook said had been parked there since early Thursday night.

One of her outstretched arms extended beneath the truck. A diamond brooch was found near one of her hands. Her wedding and engagement rings had not been disturbed, and her pocketbook contained $13 in cash and a $3.25 check from her employer.

DR. HOHLY SAID BRUISES around her neck apparently had been made by something other than human hands. He said the body appeared to have been dragged to the spot where it was found.

The spot where the body was found is directly beneath the living room window of Mr. and Mrs. John Bezzecard, caretakers for nine apartments on the second floor of the building which houses the postoffice station.

Mrs. Bezzecard said she awakened about 1 a.m. today and sometime later heard a woman say, "What's the matter? Are you afraid of me?"

Mrs. LaTour, police said, had been off work several days while she was having dental work done. Officers said she frequently was in the habit of visiting the Gaiety, then walking home by taking a short cut through the postoffice station driveway.

Ford Says Workers Averaging $105.03

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. said today its hourly-rated employees throughout the United States earned an average of $105.30 for a 41.4 hour work week in the first half of 1957.

Ford said its nationwide employment total reached a record 194,672 in the first six months of this year. The figure includes both hourly and salaried employees.

Ford workers earned a record $59,683,328 in the six-month period. John S. Bugas, vice president in charge of industrial relations, said.

Detroit area employees earned an average of $107.02 for a 41.3 hour work week, Bugas said.

The Tarheel offer to buy out the CHATTY, MUM ABOUT DIO — Labor leader Lester Washburn (left) tells Senate investigators that AFL-CIO leader David Dubinsky, head of the International Ladies Garment Workers, refused to kick racketeer Johnny Dio out of the New York labor movement "because it might have exposed something in his own union." Another witness, but a less talkative one, was jowly Theodore (Teddy Ray) Rijf (right), 240-pound bodyguard for Dio. He ducked behind the fifth amendment.

ON THE DRAMATIC rollcall vote, witnessed by spectators who crammed the Senate gallery, the party lineup was 39 Democrats and 12 Republicans for the amendment and 9 Democrats and 33 Republicans against it. Ohio's two senators split in the voting—Sen. Lausche, Democrat, voted for the amendment and Sen. Bricker, a Republican, sided against it.

The result was a wider margin of victory for the jury trial advocates than had been anticipated.

But approval of the amendment had been foreshadowed when, at midafternoon Thursday, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas announced that the vote might come at any time.

Johnson had been working feverishly behind the scenes to line up enough votes for the proposal. His announcement was taken as a signal he had succeeded.

Only two senators were absent on the rollcall vote. They were Sen. Neely (D-W. Va.), who is in the nearby Bethesda Naval Hospital, and Sen. Bridges (R-N.H.), recuperating in his home state from an illness.

The measure, as it now stands, would authorize the attorney general to obtain federal court injunctions against violations, or threatened violations, only on the right to vote. A section providing for use of injunctions to enforce civil rights in general was rejected last week.

The amendment provides that in criminal contempt cases arising from injunctions in voting right cases, defendants shall be entitled to trial by jury.

In civil contempt cases, designed to force compliance with court orders but not to punish for violations, there would not be a jury trial.

Written into the amendment was a provision to wipe out the requirement of present law that federal court jurors must be qualified under state laws.

This was designed to meet the argument of opponents that Negroes are discriminated against in the selection of juries in the South, and that all-white juries would try contempt cases.

British Warplanes Hammer at Rebels

REDDING, Calif. (AP) — Shasta County Sheriff's officers said they arrested two youths and charged them with disturbing the peace by telephoning housewives and breathing at them heavily.

Mrs. Champ Martin said one of them "breathed at me for five or six minutes."

The callers did not utter a word.

Authorities withheld the names of the accused.

ARMY reinforcements also were reported sent to Bueycito, another town in Oriente province, where a band of rebels was said to have burned an army post.

Censorship again was clamped on local and incoming foreign newspapers and radio stations and on outgoing news dispatches. Stories sent abroad were being delayed as much as six hours.

Specifically banned was publication or transmission of news implying support for the rebels by Fidel Castro. Also banned was news on work stoppages.

Federal constitutional guarantees had been restored to Cuba's six million people April 15 after a 45-day suspension.

The Bureau of Public Roads apportioned $393,750,000 for the federal aid primary system. This system, in existence for many years, includes almost all main routes used in inter-city travel. Counting in the interstate system, it is 235,000 miles in length.

Detective Sgt. Lucius P. Gleaton said he believed robbery was the motive in the death of Thomas Nicholson, blind since 1951. Gleaton said a $2 aid-to-the-blind check that Nicholson received Thursday was missing.

The detective said John Henry Dewberry, 57, who had been renting a room from the victim the last two weeks, admitted the slaying, saying it followed an argument over him coming in late at night.

THE CURRENT highway program was enacted in 1956. The apportionment for fiscal 1957 was $2,150,000,000 and for fiscal 1958 it was $2,550,000,000. Today's announcement covers fiscal 1959, starting next July 1.

Secretary of Commerce Weeks said the fiscal 1959 apportionment is being announced nearly a year in advance "to insure uninterrupted progress in the program."

Seven states were apportioned more than 100 million dollars. New York leads the list with $197,947,856. Texas will receive $167,977,005, California $163,409,763, Michigan $102,096,687.

The wife of playwright Arthur Miller is reported "as feeling as well as can be expected."

"The baby was unsavable and it was urgent to protect the life of the mother," said a hospital source. One of her doctors said Miss Monroe was five or six weeks pregnant.

French Salaries Hiked

PARIS (AP) — The French government, braving a new threat of inflation, today handed a 5½ per cent wage increase to the nation's lowest paid workers, bringing their salaries up to about 33 cents an hour.

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. said today its hourly-rated employees throughout the United States earned an average of $105.30 for a 41.4 hour work week in the first half of 1957.

Ford said its nationwide employment total reached a record 194,672 in the first six months of this year. The figure includes both hourly and salaried employees.

Ike Remains Mum on Offer To Sell Out for $1 Million

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP) — The next move is up to President Eisenhower if he's interested in selling his personal asset for $1 million.

A group of Tarheels, with Kidd Brewer of Raleigh as spokesman, made the offer Thursday in a telegram to the President.

Although the proposition got a laugh from Presidential Press Secretary James Hagerty, Brewer insisted it was a serious offer.

"The folks I represent are very much interested, and they think it would be a profitable deal if it can be done," he said.

In Washington, Hagerty said he had not seen the telegram and did not know whether it would be answered.

"The only thing that I can say is just to say that I laughed," said Hagerty.

The Tarheel offer to buy out the President followed comments at the President's news conference on Wednesday.

Asked about news articles which estimated his worth at $1 million, President Eisenhower replied: "If that man who knows so much about my business will offer me a million dollars to sell out, he is going to make a sale in a hurry."

Brewer is a businessman who starred in athletics as a Duke University student. He also has taken flights at politics, including an unsuccessful campaign last year for lieutenant governor.

While he is not at liberty to reveal the names of his associates, Brewer said, the group is "prepared to make a good faith deposit at once."

He added that he is "anxiously awaiting an opportunity for further negotiations" with the President.

Underground Gas Storage Film Subject

The Circleville Rotary Club saw a film on the development of underground storage of natural gas during its regular Thursday noon meeting at the Elks Lodge. Frank Marion presented the film for the local Ohio Fuel Gas Co.

This method of storage was pioneered a short distance southeast of Circleville where the first tests were made in exhausted gas wells.

The film pointed out that exhausted wells were found to be excellent storage points for gas pumped in from the Southwest during periods of low demand. The gas then is consumed during periods of peak demands.

This storage procedure enables the gas company to maintain a large reserve which is ready for use when the time comes for heavy consumption. The system is the subject of constant research on the part of gas company engineers.

Russia already has accepted the idea of sky and ground inspection in principle and has itself proposed two inspection zones in Communist and Western territory, each covering about 2½ million square miles.

The Western document emphasizes that the globe-girdling plan must be part of a wider disarmament treaty between East and West.

The 69-year-old American Cabinet officer decided to present the plan personally in an effort to lend emphasis to the proposal.

By replacing Harold E. Stassen, the U. S. delegate, at the subcommittee session, Dulles brought the weight of his own authority and that of President Eisenhower's to the table. It was a climax to a whirlwind five-day visit to London ordered by the President.

Alleged Forger Bound to Jury

Alert action on the part of a local merchant has led to the apprehension of a man wanted in this area on accusations of forgery.

Deputy Sheriff Dwight Radcliff today said that John Brenton Preston, 24, Walslo, was arrested after he cashed a forged check at the Bob Litter Heating Co., W. Main St. Litter, becoming suspicious of the check, notified the sheriff's department.

After getting a description of Preston and his car from the local merchant, the sheriff's department sent out a state alarm on the man. He was picked up by the State Highway Patrol in Ross County and released at Deputy Radcliff.

Investigation by Radcliff revealed that Preston is wanted in London and Fairborn on similar accusations. The deputy said Preston possibly is wanted in other states for forgery.

The accused man was bound to the Pickaway County Grand Jury under $3,000 bond today in Circleville Municipal Court.

Granville Jones with four hits in four trips, Dean with a homerun, and George Reeser going three for four, including a triple, were the hitting stars for the winners.

Brown's win was behind the hurling of Wendell Lovett who recorded 11 strikeouts. Bill Mount and John Wardell twirled for the losers.

Dulles Speaks

Take Risk, Halt A-Testing Churches May Ask Nations

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI) — A strong move developed Thursday at a world gathering of church leaders for an appeal to governments to halt nuclear bomb tests now—as a trial—with or without international compacts.

For three hours a succession of high ecclesiastical officials from many nations stepped to the podium to voice support for the proposal, described as a "risk for peace."

There was relatively little opposition. The matter was referred to a committee for hammering out the details before it is returned to the floor for final action, probably Tuesday.

"God can break this deadlock between America and Russia, because the statement urges a five-step program of agreements for halting bomb tests, disarmament and safe-guarding the peace, but notes the obstacles in negotiating them.

To try to break the impasse, it says, "there is a risk for peace which Christians in countries projecting tests of nuclear weapons are justified in advocating, in the hope of breaking through the barriers of distrust.

They can urge their governments to forego tests for a trial period, in the hope that others will do the same, a new confidence will be born and foundations laid for reliable agreements."

Methodist Bishop Sante Alberto Barberi, Buenos Aires, advocated a "stronger and more direct statement." So did Dr. M. Niemoller, Wiesbaden, Germany, and some other speakers.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, Geoffrey Francis Fisher, Primate of the Church of England, said the pronouncement is "exactly what it ought to be."

"It doesn't say Christians have got to advocate this course," he said. "It says they're perfectly justified in advocating it. And I think they are."

Rise in Prices Moves Along Steadily Now

Latest News Reports Indicate More Living Cost Boosts Coming

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The dog days may be taking some of the zip out of the consumer but they aren't taking much out of the steady rise of prices and costs here and there in the economy.

Food, apparel and a multitude of gadgets and services are being pressured upward by the latest increases.

And the shadow of more to come falls across the news columns today.

Industrial leaders appear to be counting on a big fall pickup in business activity to make these price increases stick. If the new boom doesn't come along on schedule to put the idle industrial facilities to work, some of the latest price hikes may be rescinded.

But the belief in built-in inflation seems to be growing, a self priming spiral of wages and prices which only a bally public could halt.

The threat of higher prices to come at the stores and in the commodity markets lies in these things:

Wholesale prices of food have climbed to the highest point since June of 1955, and are now 5 percent above a year ago. Retail food prices seem sure to make another advance soon in sympathy.

Manufacturers ordering materials for fall production will be paying higher prices for steel and aluminum products.

Prices of some other metals that have fallen in recent weeks could be bolstered and rise again as the result of congressional action. Hearings on a proposed hike in the tariff on lead and zinc are underway in Washington with the object of aiding those faltering industries.

It's a long path from the mine to the car dealer's showroom or the appliance store, but in time the price increases in industrial materials will have their effect on retail prices.

Auto tire prices are going up as a result of higher wages in the rubber factories.

Higher wages in the cement industry seem sure to increase the cost of construction soon.

Price increases in woolen fabrics and in acetate staple which goes into clothing and home furnishings may send the cost of apparel higher this fall and next spring.

The cost of travel and of moving freight may go up.

All of these things add up to headaches in the cost accounting departments of American business. Operating costs continue to rise and the end is not in sight.

Hidden Prisoner Bares Wall Crack

TIFFIN (AP)—After ordering nine prisoners to go from the bullpen to individual cells in the city jail, Patrolman William J. Paulus found one hiding in an unused cell.

A further check showed that mortar had been loosened around blocks in the bullpen wall.

The prisoners were charges of Seneca County, but were being kept in city jail during repairs at the county jail.

"Mary Haworth's Mail" ed for the sake of group friend ship? Should I make the first move to patch up the differences?

C. W.

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: When I moved to my present address I soon became friendly with two fellows my age who live down the hall. The friendship grew quickly, due to many common interests.

However, I soon discovered that both fellows have a singular habit which is annoying, to say the least. They are never on time for appointments, not even for dinner or the after dates. At times they just don't bother to show up at all.

Worse, on two such occasions they had invited other friends to join us and I was forced into the uncomfortable role of playing host to persons who, though charming, were strangers to me. Later these fellows explained vaguely that "something had come up." Their friends seemed to accept this as normal behavior.

The crowning blow came two weeks ago. They were spending the weekend in the country, and telephoned to ask me and a neighbor to come out for the evening. It isn't far, but money and effort were required to get there—and on arrival, we found nobody home! It seems they'd gone to a movie.

Since then we haven't spoken, except for "Good Morning" when we pass in the hall. I'm afraid my frigid tone doesn't invite further conversation. However, the neighbor who went with me has continued his friendship with them as if nothing had happened.

He tells me I'm making too much of the incident, that starting a cold war won't help matters and since I started the freeze, it is up to me to end it. I don't agree, as I feel I've been insulted. Still I do miss the fun we'd had together, and I still have to live here; and it is annoying to live in an atmosphere of unpleasantness.

What do you suggest? Should this type of behavior be overlooked?

State Industrial Adviser To Resign

EAST LIVERPOOL (AP)—Will T. Blake, a member of the State Industrial Commission for 22 years, reports he is resigning for reasons of health.

Blake said he has sent Gov. C. William O'Neill a letter of resignation. He has two years left on his fourth 6-year term.

A Republican, Blake was director of industrial relations in the cabinet of Gov. Myers Y. Cooper in 1929 and 1930.

He was appointed to the commission by Gov. Martin L. Davey when it was set up in 1935 and was reappointed subsequently by Govs. John W. Bricker, Thomas J. Herbert and Frank J. Lausche.

DAYTON (AP)—Authorities here are investigating the deaths of Dana R. Carder, 55, Dayton, and George Wotring, 39, Warren, whose bodies were found in separate parts of the city Thursday.

Carder, who was found in his apartment, had been dead four or five days, officers said. Wotring was found dead, apparently from natural causes, about 100 yards east of the Webster Street dump.

As I see their behavior, it is altogether childish. They have a sort of gang spirit about their adventures in discourtesy. They feel socially strong and emancipated from the rules of civility (for the time being) because they have each other. And no doubt they look down upon you as vulnerable, defenseless, inferior, etc., because you are alone, hence lonely (presumably)—to be treated, therefore, if they choose, as a sort of stray dog, ever-hungry for crumbs.

In all probability they have found you always available to fit into their plans—and, from their view, almost comically correct, on the score of old-fashioned good manners, perhaps. A "nice Nelly" sort of a guy—a chap whom one can't help liking; but still, for good for a laugh behind his back. That's how they see you, I think—due to their own lack of gentility.

In any case, being two-against-one, they are better situated to call off the cold war than you are, without losing face. And if they were top caliber men, they'd do just that—bombarding you with honest cordiality until you'd thaw out. If they aren't giving you that kind of break at present, I don't advise you to make special overtures to them.

Try this: Overcome your anger and also, your sense of need, as regards them. Red "Stake Your Claim" (Harpers) by Emmet Fox, to get the pitch. Be prepared to resume friendship if and when the opportunity opens naturally. Then address yourself to other interests in life—and if things don't clear up within a year, it might be wise to move, and literally put the whole situation behind you.

He tells me I'm making too much of the incident, that starting a cold war won't help matters and since I started the freeze, it is up to me to end it. I don't agree, as I feel I've been insulted. Wars Blamed for Decline

England's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan in a recent speech gave a thought-provoking reason for the decline of the West in this century.

In a speech to the United Kingdom Council of the European Movement, Prime Minister Macmillan said:

"Twice in a generation Europe has torn itself apart in bitter internecine struggle. In these fierce conflicts the nations have not hesitated to use every ounce of power that could be dragged into the battle, and by this means — let us face it — they have largely destroyed or at any rate threatened the supremacy of Western civilization."

"Many of our present troubles really flow from the loss of authority which followed the demonstration to less advanced peoples of the most civilized areas in the world destroying each other," said the Prime Minister.

The wars of this century have often been blamed for sapping the energy and wasting the treasure of the countries of Western Europe.

But the Prime Minister has made an unusual point in suggesting that these wars cost the West both prestige and authority. Macmillan undoubtedly is right.

It is another indictment of the follies of the wars in which Europe so often indulged in the past.

Yankees Oh, Ah over Royalty

By EDDY GILMORE
(For Hal Boyle)

LONDON (AP) — Britain's royal family is one of the greatest sales teams in the world.

Its garden party this week for 5,000 Americans — 3,000 members of the American Bar Assn. and their relatives — was a demonstration of compelling advertising for Great Britain.

Two hours' exposure to Queen Elizabeth II, the queen mother and Prince Philip made some of the Americans ecstatic.

Cecil Burney of Corpus Christi, called the queen "a honey."

Sail Charles N. Rhyne, District of Columbia, new president of the American Bar Assn.: "She's just like a Dresden doll. The queen mother is the most regal person I've ever seen in my life."

"And the prince," broke in

Mrs. Rhyne, "he's just so handsome." Said Mrs. Herbert Brownell, wife of the U.S. attorney general:

"She's the Queen magnificent. She's heavenly. And he's so handsome."

John Rank of Lancaster, Pa. smiled broadly.

"She's a real doll," he said, "and the prince is a charmer."

Mrs. Nora Snyder, of Kansas City, took a deep breath.

"I was just thrilled, absolutely thrilled to meet the prince."

The Americans who spilled out over the Buckingham Palace lawn made no secret of the fact that they came to see, meet and if possible, talk to members of the royal family.

Mrs. Benjamin Roth of Youngstown told the queen: "We have a daughter who is just like you. People are always saying she could be your twin sister."

"A wonderful, wonderful family," nodded Judge Thornton G. Berry of Welch, W. Va.

Palace officials selected in advance a number of Americans to be presented to the royal family. Others just introduced themselves.

Wave after wave of admiring Americans ignored the palace officials, broke ranks, surrounded the queen, the prince and the queen mother.

There was only one disappointing feature — the absence of Princess Margaret.

A friend said she stayed away for fear the Americans, in their frank friendliness, might have asked Margaret too many questions. Such as — what about Peter Townsend?

Kremlin Policies Still Clear

For some psychological reason, Americans, a most optimistic people, like to keep themselves cheerful by ignoring realities. Maybe that is why they live long and their women are so beautiful, but unfortunately in international politics, longevity and beauty do not solve fundamental problems, such as how to get along with the Russians and the Red Chinese.

When Nikita Khrushchev took his first step forward, within a few weeks after Stalin died, it was hardly noticed in this country. What happened was that Stalin's will put Malenkov into the position of Secretary of the Russian Communist Party which is the boss of the government. Khrushchev kicked Malenkov out of that job. That made Khrushchev No. 1. It was as clear as could be that if a fellow could do that, he was on his way.

The next step was the trial of Beria who was executed and the elimination of Molotov and Malenkov from the headship of government. This ended the effectiveness of Stalin's will which named the triumvirate of Malenkov, Molotov and Beria to run the country.

Then Bulganin was placed at the head of the government. Bulganin has never been a top man, always a No. 2. Some men are by nature presidents of companies and some are foremen. Bulganin is the foreman type.

So, in the United States we took it for granted that the head of the team was Bulganin and that Khrushchev was only the party boss, forgetting that the Communist Party acts as the dictatorship of the proletariat, which means who ever bosses the party controls the government. From the day Bulganin became premier, Khrushchev's control was complete.

Then came the XXth Congress at which Khrushchev degraded Stalin, asserted new policies and generally kicked everybody all over the beach. For a while, it looked as though some of the other Russian leaders might stand up to Khrushchev and ask him where he got off bossing them the way he did. None of them stood up. They toed the mark the same as they used to do when Stalin butchered a colleague for frowning at him.

However, in Poland and in Hungary, they did rebel against Khrushchev who had Marshal Zhukov murder the Hungarians with a brutality not often seen in war. Poland accepted a compromise.

Now, Khrushchev has exiled Malenkov, Molotov, Kaganovich and Shepilov and there is no opposition. Then sings the chorus of official opinion: "Khrushchev could never have done that. It was Zhukov who helped him." Whenever everybody seems to be unanimous about what no one can know for sure, then it is certain that the record was manufactured officially and is being played over and over again for a purpose.

But the purpose is nonsensical whatever it is. The fact that President Eisenhower or any other American prefers Zhukov to Khrushchev can make no difference in Communist Russia, and the Queen Magnificent is right.

Similarly, our experts have been looking forward to a row between Khrushchev and Mao Tze-tung, between Soviet Russia and Red China. The British believe that such a row is inevitable and will save the world and they premise their policy upon it. It is altogether possible that something like that could happen in a century or so, but it is not in the nature of the Chinese to rush history. At any rate, in his famous statement of last December, Mao justified the Soviet murders in Hungary and used these words:

"The strengthening of the international solidarity of the proletariat will make the imperialist warmongers think twice before embarking upon new adventures. Therefore, despite the fact that the imperialists are still trying to resist the efforts (of the Communists), the forces for peace will eventually triumph over the forces of war."

Then Mao says:

"... when the socialist states commit errors of one kind or another, our enemies are elated while some of our comrades and friends become dejected; a number of them even waver in their confidence as to the future of the Communist cause. However, there is little cause for our enemies to rejoice or for our comrades and friends to feel dejected or to waver. The proletariat has begun to rule the state for the first time in history..."

Mao remains a prisoner of the Kremlin.

Patrolman Admits Quarry Is Too Fast

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Motorcycle Patrolman Robert Shy had to admit that his quarry was too fast for him.

Another officer had stopped a 17-year-old motorist driving a "souped-up" auto for an operator's license check, but the youth pulled away and led Shy on a chase that reached 80 m.p.h. through the downtown area and 100 m.p.h. on Ohio 7 between Chesapeake and Bradwick.

Shy lost the fleeing motorist on a rural road near Bradwick. "It was too fast for anyone, including me," the officer commented.

"Ahoy, skipper. New craft successfully launched at seven bells. Tonnage: eight pounds. All shipshape. That is all, we hope. Love. Mary."

The head commandant of a post in East Germany gazed fiercely at a trembling specimen before him. "I thought you told us," he barked, "that neither of your parents came from Poland?"

"They didn't," maintained the prisoner. "They're still there."

The plural of "mouse," of course, is "mice," and therefore the late Christopher Morley thought the plural of "spouse" should be "spice."

Keep Tabs on Polio Symptoms

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Polio isn't whipped yet, so let's not drop our guard. I don't want any community anywhere to experience an upsurge in the number of infantile paralysis cases such as we had in Chicago last summer.

As we had in Chicago last summer,

Through an emergency mass inoculation program, we were able to help bring the situation under control. However, another community might not have the same good fortune.

The first line of defense is right there in your own home. And you are the front line troops.

Unfortunately, it's not always as simple to diagnose a case of polio as you might imagine. The chief stumbling block is that there is no characteristic sign or symptom which is found in every case.

Laboratory studies often are needed to establish a diagnosis accurately. And these tests can't be made until symptoms develop.

Very often a youngster coming down with polio may be drowsy or restless. He may be irritable and feverish. He's apt to complain about being moved and resist all efforts to move him.

During this polio season be suspicious even of minor upsets among the children. A slight cold linked with pain in the joints, or just nausea, vomiting or diarrhea means summoning the doctor.

Ruth, a Foreigner, Won Her Way

LOVE AND LOYALTY GAINED FRIENDS FOR HER IN A STRANGE LAND

Scripture—Ruth 1:22; 2:2-6, 8-13; 4:13, 17.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

FROM the fighting and slaughter in our last lesson, we turn today to one of the loveliest stories in the Old Testament. We can learn many lessons of love, loyalty and right conduct from it.

Because of a famine in Israel a man named Elimelech took his wife Naomi and his two sons to live in Moab. Elimelech died there and the two sons married Moabite women, the name of one Orpah, and the other Ruth. Then the sons died, and Naomi, heartbroken, decided to go back to her own people.

The two young widows must have been very fond of their husbands' mothers, so they said they would go with her. She advised them to return to their own people, and Orpah agreed to take her advice. Ruth, however, clung to her mother-in-law, declaring that where Naomi went she would go; she would worship Naomi's God, and Naomi's people would be her people.

MEMORY VERSE

"The stranger that dwelleth with you shall be unto you as one born among you, and thou shalt love him as thyself."—Leviticus 19:34.

The two women traveled the 50 miles to Bethlehem, where former friends asked Naomi if it was indeed she returned. She told them to call her Mara (meaning bitter), for the Almighty hath afflicted me." This incident was not included in our lesson assignment.

Probably realizing that she and Naomi needed food, Ruth said: "Let me now go to the field and glean ears of corn after him in whose sight I shall find grace." Naomi said, "Go, my daughter," so Ruth went and gleaned in the field after the reapers.

The field belonged to a wealthy kinsman of Naomi's, Boaz, and based on copyrighted outlines produced by the Division of Christian Education in the U.S.A., and used by permission.

Judge Pondering Decision In Brooklyn Church Dispute

NEW YORK — A judge has come of the litigation over the occupant of the pulpit.

The Rev. Mr. Melish's counsel, Raphael H. Weissman, urged the justice Wednesday to continue his original order.

George L. Hubbell Jr. asked Martuscello to give complete jurisdiction over the funds to the vestrymen supporting Dr. Sidener.

Hubbell introduced an affidavit from Lewis G. Reynolds, an anti-Melish vestryman, saying that the Rev. Mr. Melish in effect has been paid a salary throughout the controversy from contributions made to a special fund by pro-Melish church members.

Hubbell requested these sums for Dr. Sidener: $9,333 in back salary and $584 a month from now on; $480 for back payments on a car and $30 a month for that purpose from now on; $2,160 for back rent and $135 a month for rent from now on. Hubbell said the money was for services prior to last June 30.

Representatives of two banks, the Manufacturers Trust Co. and the Chase Manhattan Bank, told Martuscello in court that they would not release any of the church's funds on deposit with them until a court order finally decides whether pro-Melish or anti-Melish forces are in command at the church.

In reserving decision Wednesday Martuscello refused to sanction immediate payment of any salary to the Rev. Mr. Melish or the Rev. Dr. Herman S. Sidener, who has been designated as his successor.

When the case first came before Martuscello, he ordered that a pro-Melish vestryman and an anti-Melish vestryman countersigned expenditure checks pending out-were paid. The Club decided to sponsor a Labor Day Celebration in the local park in the late afternoon and evening of September 2.

The descendants of Joseph Brown will hold their annual reunion Sunday, August 4, at the Madison Twp. School.

The Band Boosters Club of the Ashville-Harrison High School will hold an ice cream social on the school lawn Thursday, August 15.

Mrs. Hattie Rife is spending a two-weeks' vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Sim Childers of Indianapolis, Ind.

Dior's New 'Spindle-Line' Wows Paris Fashion Show

By NADEANE WALKER

PARIS (AP)—Wolf-whistle bosoms and slack waisted, hip-hugging sheaths set the pace in fashion czar Christian Dior's New "spindle-line" collection shown this morning.

Hemlines were almost forgotten as necklines fell. Actually the hemlines are a modest mid-calf, or perhaps 15 inches from the floor.

That's shorter for Dior, who liked them long last season. It ranges him with the conservatives this time, for half the houses have shown them just covering the knee.

A new half-shell bra, strapless, backless and without fastenings, permits the most eye-popping décolletage to be seen outside the Folies Bergère.

It appears only for cocktail and evening. Most daytime bosoms are far too flat to deserve the name. The great mystery is how Dior can create opposite effects with the same girls in the same show.

Suits and dresses look tacked to the tummy and loose in the back. But both short and long formal sheaths are innocent of any waistline at all—while they grip the hips and hug the legs.

Sarong dresses for cocktail time and evening wrap the figure and fasten with a bow under one breast.

Straight out of the 1920s are beaded sheaths and even one bead-fringed sheath. One model twice had to get help to disentangle her heels from the hem fringe of a hobble-tight floor-length sheath of black velvet.

The end of the show, heavily applauded throughout and especially with the appearance of cocktail and evening clothes, brought enthusiastic hand-clapping from the audience. However, Dior's top mannequin, exotic Alla, broke out in nervous tears as she paraded the next to last ball gown.

The spindle line brings a long waisted look back. A loose middle and nipped in hemline account for the spindle shape.

Again, black is queen of the day, but Dior's other colors are wonderful—coral pink, ruby red, watery to lacquer blue, emerald green and old gold.

Bloused-over tops sometimes make it difficult to tell at a glance if a garment is coat, suit, or dress. Most turn out to be dresses with false two-piece effects.

Only a little "V" slit, discreetly filled in, at the back of the knees keeps Dior's slim skirts from being real hobbles, while his big ones stand out like balloons, stiffened with crinoline petticoats.

That lowest-ever neckline is sometimes saved in the nick of time by a rose tucked in the middle, and sometimes bordered with an undulating fringe of feathers. One was mink topped.

Wool fringe or feathered wig-hats cover the hair completely and make a fluffy ball of the head. Cocktail numbers shoot off long wispy plumes—straight up like a whale's tail or to the back.

Dior's showing winds up the major Paris fashion openings for this season.

Hartman, Amy Vanderbilt Not in Full Agreement

Dave Dugan asked for the advice for his partner, Jim McKay, who's moving to the town, on their "This is New York" show (CBS-TV).

"Tell Mr. McKay to be sure to send his children to school in dungarees this Fall, and not to dress them up too much. This is THE costume for the school children of Westport."

A true-blue-jeans advocate, Miss Vanderbilt says her boys wear jeans all the time. A family hobby, she said, is sending all their outgrown ("they never wear out!") blue jeans to orphans in Europe, through the Foster Parents Plan, one of her favorite charities. "There," she says, "the jeans continue to spread their pleasant little philosophy of simplicity, durability and all-around usefulness."

A picture of Miss Vanderbilt, with her handsome sons in jeans, appears in the current issue of Good Housekeeping magazine, along with a thumbnail biography of the famous author.

Musial, Jones Set Pace for Card Victory

'The Man' Booms Bat, 'Sad Sam' Pitches a Shutout Over Giants

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Stan (The Man) Musial and Sad Jones, an example of the old standbys and new faces who have made the St. Louis Cardinals hum, have the Redbirds perched atop the National League standings again.

Musial, 4-for-4 with a pair of two-run homers, and Jones, pitching a six-hit shutout, were all the Cards needed to move two percentage points past idle Milwaukee Thursday night. But the Red Birds won it big, banging 15 hits against the New York Giants for an 8-0 job and their sixth straight success.

Brooklyn is third, 1½ games behind, after rapping the Chicago Cubs 12-3. Gil Hodges set a NL record with the 13th bases-loaded home run of his 12-year career.

Cincinnati reclaimed fourth place from Philadelphia, rallying to beat the Phils 4-3.

In the American League, it's New York by four games after Washington bumped the second-place Chicago White Sox 5-4 while the Yankees were idle. Detroit gained a share of fourth place with Cleveland by defeating Boston 7-5 in the only other game scheduled.

Musial, who retired after six innings, passed Ty Cobb and took third place behind Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig with 1,140 extra-base hits in his 16-year career.

Stan, who also singled twice, put it away fast, tagging a first-inning pitch from southpaw Johnny Antonelli, now 10-11, for his first homer, then giving the Cards a 6-0 lead in the sixth with the second, off lefty reliever Jim Constable after Jones had doubled.

Jones, a 31-year-old righthander who has gained control since joining the Cards in a December deal with the Cubs, walked only one, struck out four and had a four-hitter for eight innings while gaining a 9-4 record.

The Dodgers, matching St. Louis' 21-10 record in the last 31 games, rapped 18 hits off loser Tom Poholsky and three relievers as the Cubs chipped in six errors. Sandy Koufax won his fifth with a four-hitter and 11 strikeouts.

Hodges drove in five runs and locked it up with his big smash off southpaw Dick Littlefield in the fifth after Ernie Banks' three-run homer had whittled the Brook lead.

It was Hodges' second grand-slammer of the year and bettered the mark held by Rogers Hornsby and Ralph Kiner. Gehrig set the major league mark with 23. Boston's Ted Williams tops active players with 14.

Curt Simmons, backed up by homers from Stan Lopata and Rip Repulski, had a four-hitter and a 3-1 lead until the Redlegs cut loose for three runs in the eighth to hand the Phillies' southpaw a seventh defeat. Ed Bailey's sacrifice fly scored the clincher. Johnny Klippstein won in relief.

Roy Sievers hit his fourth home run in four games to trigger a three-run sixth that beat the White Sox, who had built a 4-0 lead on Larry Doby's first grand-slammer since 1953. It was Sievers' 28th homer of the year and his 11th against the Sox—putting him within reach of the major league record of 14 against one club set by Gehrig against Cleveland in 1936. Sievers has five more games against Chicago.

The Tigers scored three in the ninth for a 7-1 lead, but Duke Maas needed relief from Harry Byrd and Frank Lary to win his eighth. Frank Malzone's two-on for the Bosox and Lary came on with two on and none out to get Norm Zauchin on a doubleplay ball and fan Ted Lepcio. Mike Fornieles was the loser.

Baseball Photos Are Set Tomorrow

Players and managers taking part in the Circleville Boys Baseball program are reminded that pictures will be taken Saturday morning at Ted Lewis Park.

Players also are reminded to wear team T-shirts. Photos will be snapped as follows:

Hoosier, 18, May End Up Publinx King

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—One of the most exciting young golfers in several years has turned up in the National Public Links championship, a tournament which doesn't ordinarily produce great golfers.

He is 18-year-old Don Essig of Indianapolis who might come out Saturday night as the youngest Publinx winner in 31 years.

Don isn't exactly an unknown in golf. He was winning matches in the public links and the U.S. Junior Amateur as far back as 1954.

And he reached the fourth round of the pay-as-you-go championship two years ago. This summer he has won the Western Junior and Indiana State Junior titles plus some local events.

At 18 Essig showed clear signs of golfing maturity when he beat Junie Buxbaum of Memphis, Tenn., the defending champion who is more than twice his age.

Bracketed with the young Hoosier in today's 36-hole semifinal over the demanding little Hershey Park Course were three older players. One of them, Gene Towry of Dallas, Tex., has the experience and the gameness to win. He's a lot like Buxbaum in size and steadiness.

The others are unknowns—Paul Popovic, a 38-year-old San Francisco insurance man, and Don Skrabulis, a 26-year-old boiler-maker from Kewanee, Ill.

It was Essig versus Skrabulis and Towry versus Popovic in today's matches.

Musial Moves Up In Hitting Ranks

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Stan (The Man) Musial moved up again among Major League baseball's all-time hitting greats Thursday night, moving past Ty Cobb into third place in extra-base hits with 1,140.

Musial, in his 16th season, bettered Cobb's 1,139 total for 24 seasons with a pair of two-run home runs in a perfect 4-for-4 night as the St. Louis Cardinals defeated New York's Giants 8-0 to regain the National League lead.

Only Babe Ruth (1,356) and Lou Gehrig (1,188) ever hit more career extra-base hits. Ruth did it in 22 years, Gehrig in 17.

Henry C. Swasey, New Hampshire baseball coach for 36 years, is running two summer teams in the City League at St. John, N.H.

George Yardley averaged 21.5 points per game for 72 National Basketball Assn. games last season with Fort Wayne.

Tribe Pitching
Seen Key to Yank Series

NEW YORK (P)—Pitching, or the lack of it, is the problem facing the Cleveland Indians as they open a tough five-game series with the league-leading New York Yankees tonight.

Early Wynn, the only hurler on the Tribe's staff who was a starter when the season got underway, has been picked by Manager Kerby Farrell for Saturday's starting assignment.

Don Mossi, who came out of the bullpen after injuries forced Bob Lemon and Herb Score to the sidelines, will open the series tonight.

The Yankees' Bobby Shantz who has defeated the Indians twice this season, is Manager Casey Stengel's choice for tonight's game.

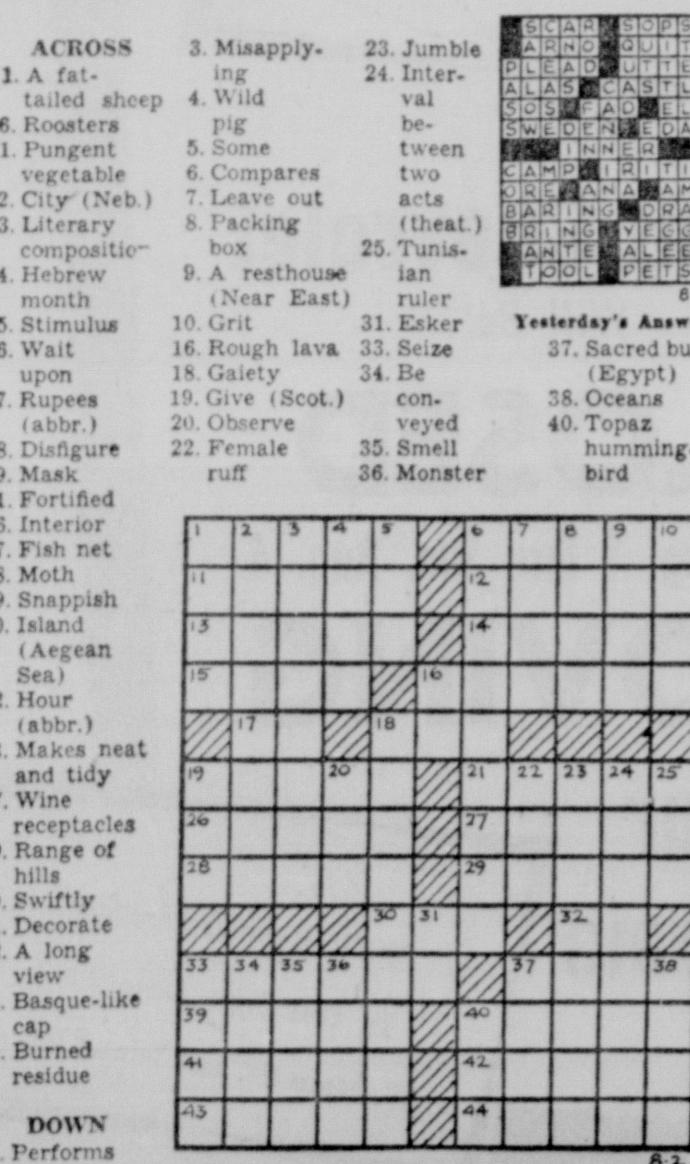

Tom Sturdivant will oppose Wynn and Whitey Ford will hurl the first game of Sunday's double-header.

John Gray, recalled from San Diego when the lack of pitching grew acute for the Indians, will take the mound against Ford. In his first performance after leaving San Diego, Gray pitched the Indians to a shutout victory over Baltimore.

Mike Garcia will hurl the nightcap of the doubleheader opposing John Kucks.

Another relief pitcher turned starter, Ray Narleski, will wind up the series for Cleveland Monday. Don Larsen is the Yankees' probable starter.

And Now 11-Year-Old Girl
Felled by Fad for Dieting

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor
Things have gone far enough in the diet merry-go-round, it seems to me, when a little girl writes her mother from summer camp:

"Dear Mummy: Please send me some sunflower seeds and wheat germ. All they give you here for breakfast is gooey sweet rolls."

This product of our modern age is Pamela Stark, 11-year-old daughter of Wilbur Stark and Kathi Norris, TV producing-editing team currently involved with a Saturday show called "True Story." Mummy Kathi is a lissome Irisi colleen with a 21-inch waist who looks like a debutante despite the fact that she has three children — 5-year-old Bradley, and year-old Kitty, in addition to Pamela. All three have been raised on such things as raw vegetables and molasses, which they prefer to marshmallow fudge sundaes. There is no doubt that the Stark children, as well as Mom and Pop, are all healthy and handsome examples of the ideal young American looking fondly at an insurance policy or piling into a new car in four-color slick-paper magazine ads. The question that worries me is — are they missing any fun?

There are others, it seems, who have a similar feeling of panic when confronted with some of the currently fashionable facets of modern living. Take Jean Kerr, for instance, who has a piece in the current issue of Harper's Magazine entitled "Aunt Jean's Marshmallow Fudge Diet," in which she issues a personal declaration of independence against all fat diets, including the latest one consisting of mother's milk. Mrs. Kerr, author, playwright and wife of New York drama critic Walter Kerr, says she has noted that most of the recent divorcees of her acquaintance are thin as rails, and continues:

"What actually holds a husband through thick and thin is a girl who is fun to be with. And any girl who has had nothing to eat since 9 o'clock this morning but three hard-boiled eggs will be about as jolly and companionable as an income tax inspector."

Coast Guard Seeks
Ship Reassignment

CLEVELAND (P)—The Coast Guard is considering an extensive reassignment of ships to provide more efficient operations by search and rescue craft on the Great Lakes.

Capt. Oliver A. Peterson, chief of staff in the 9th Coast Guard district, said the plan has gone to Washington for approval. But there probably will not be any moves before next Spring. The plan aims at getting each vessel in the center of its operating area.

Escaped Monkey
Hard to Catch

DOWAGIAC, Mich. (P)—It's going to take more than all the king's horses and all the king's men to catch a speedy little three-year-old monkey named Cheetah. Cheetah broke away from her owner Orbra Cook Thursday night and took off on a tree-swinging tour of Dowagiac.

As a crowd of 150 watched, policemen chased the monk but couldn't catch her. They called in two firemen for help but after two unsuccessful hours the officers and firemen gave up.

Cheetah is still at large.

He Shuns Beauty,
Eyes Only Purses

CINCINNATI (P)—Purses, and not Jayne Mansfield, the motion picture actress, attracted a Cincinnati youth to a drive-in theater here, he told police.

Other patrons rushed from their automobiles to get a look at the visiting Miss Mansfield, but not Robert Vanderpoole, 18. Instead, he went to their automobiles.

Police said he had three purses in his possession when seized.

Brodie Applauded
In Passing Drills

CHICAGO (P)—John Brodie, Stanford's classy field general, stole the limelight Thursday as All-Star Coach Curly Lambeau put his quarterback crew through a passing drill.

Brodie's short and long tosses highlighted the drill at Northwestern's Dyche Stadium. Notre Dame's Paul Hornung, Jim Harris of Oklahoma and Purdue's Len Dawson also showed up well for the collegians.

Line coaches put the emphasis on low tackling for battle with the world champion New York Giants Aug. 9.

Bringing in Cow
Brings Troubles

BIG RAPIDS, Mich. (P)—Farmer Frank Green of nearby Morley went out to the pasture Thursday to bring in his cow.

As Green approached, the cow kicked over a nest of bees. The bees attacked Green who began beating them out of the way with his straw hat. The hat slipped out of his hand and fell to the ground. The cow ate it. Green covered his head with his arms and headed for home—without the cow.

State-Federal Unit Checks County's Cows for Disease

A state-federal laboratory is working in Pickaway County now, checking on Brucellosis of Bang's Disease, principally in the dairy cattle in the county.

The purpose of the program is to eliminate Brucellosis which can be transmitted from infected cattle to humans through contact and use of unpasteurized dairy products.

Brucellosis can cause abortions in cattle, but it causes arthritis and undulant fever in humans.

Samples of milk are now being collected throughout the county by representatives of the Pickaway County Dairy Service Unit.

The farmers of the county are given instructions on how to collect milk from their herds and the dairy service unit personnel picks up the samples and delivers them to the state Brucellosis Mobile Laboratory which is parked at the County Highway garage.

The milk samples are given a "ring test". The test indicates which herds have suspicious cattle.

The results of the tests are forwarded to the herd owners. If not infected the farmer gets a postcard, if infected he gets a letter indicating the herd has been put on a township list which is given to a local veterinarian.

THE VETERINARIAN will give each of the farmer's cattle a blood test to determine which cows have the disease, if any.

If some of the cattle have the disease the farmer will be notified. He has 30 days in which to remove the diseased cattle from his herd and the rest of his herd is quarantined until he does so. If he doesn't remove the diseased cows within 30 days the infected ones are branded with a hot iron. The infected cows have to be kept apart from the rest of the herd, and the herd remains quarantined.

If the farmer fails to get rid of the animal within a year he can be prosecuted.

The individual herd tests will continue here for about two more weeks, according to William Wiseman, Chillicothe, federal area supervisor for the joint state-federal livestock disease eradication program, for Pickaway, Ross and Fayette counties.

He said samples will be taken at bulk plants and creameries soon. In this way entire herds which are not infected can be eliminated without a farm-to-farm check and infected cattle will show up faster.

Wiseman said, "It's quicker and more economical."

He also reported that owners of beef cattle can request free blood tests by contacting the mobile laboratory.

As of yesterday 290 Pickaway county herds had been screened by the ring test and 17 were suspicious. The 17 herds were made up of 473 cattle. In all, 4,408 cows have been checked to date which is approximately half of the county's cattle population.

Three years ago 22 per cent of the milk samples taken were suspicious; last year it was 8.5 suspicious and this year the percentage is about 5.9, indicating the farmers are cooperating in the program effectively.

HANDLING the work in the mobile laboratory is Fred Zeigler, technician in charge. Working with him are a secretary and a bottle washer.

A new law, which went into effect July 24, puts "teeth" into the Brucellosis eradication program. Wiseman said. He hopes that within a few years the disease will be wiped out altogether.

Little Delaware Provides Chiefs for 2 Leading Clubs

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Little Delaware has taken over the spotlight from big Texas this year—in providing presidents for two of the top clubs for congressional wives.

Mrs. John Williams, wife of Delawere, is president of the Congressional Club, which this year celebrates its 50th anniversary. Mrs. J. Allen Frear, wife of the Democratic senator from the state, is the new president of the Women's National Democratic Club. Last year two Texans headed the clubs.

Mrs. Omar Burleson, wife of the Democratic congressman, piloted the activities of the Congressional Club. Mrs. Martin G. White, wife of one of the commissioners of the U. S. Court of Claims, was president of the Women's National Democratic Club.

Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Frear both have already lined up ambitious programs for the year ahead.

Mrs. Williams calls hers the "golden year." Plans include a "Golden Anniversary" breakfast in the spring, with Mamie Eisenhower as honor guest, a Friday afternoon program built around "50 years ago" with costumes, exhibits, skits, slogans and songs, and a brunch for Mr. Albert Carter, wife of a former California congressman who helped get the club into business back in 1908.

Mrs. Williams, who is spending the summer at Rehoboth Beach, Del., is entertaining committee members at her resort residence while planning the activities for the year, which she says will begin with a big luncheon at the club's handsome headquarters here Jan. 9.

Probably next on the calendar of the club, which was set up by an act of Congress in 1902, and boasts an active membership of more than 500, will be the traditional welcoming reception for new members of Congress.

The golden theme will be carried out in detail throughout the Congressional Club year. Even the membership listing and program booklet will be golden. The cookbook with the members' favorite recipes printed in their own handwriting, a big money-raiser for club coffers, will be the same as this year's but will have a new cover and an inside page dedicated to the anniversary and the history of the club.

Girl Says Men Get Easy Tasks

TV Actress Details Theory About Work

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Men performers have it much easier than women on television, says Georgia Gibbs, the girl who has launched a delightful new program of songs on NBC-TV Monday evenings.

"A man just puts on tux or a dark suit and goes before the cameras," she said. "But a woman has so many problems. What clothes will she wear? How will she fix her hair? Is her makeup right? It seems to me I spend three days a week fussing over my clothes for a 15-minute show."

Because of the care with which she selects her clothing ("I strive for simplicity"), viewers don't realize she is only five feet. But the home audience has discovered she can sing anything: ballads or blues, beguines or rock 'n' roll, and she can belt them or sing them sweet.

Georgia began singing in a Worcester, Mass., movie house when she was 11 years old, the youngest of four children of a widowed mother. Two years later she lied about her age and began touring with small bands, sometimes traveling 400 miles from one-night stands.

Those were the important years, when a kid wants to be wanted," she recalls. "On the road it was lonelier than it can ever be again. Those years are lost. But singing the way I did then—sometimes 50 or 60 songs a night—that's real solid training."

When she felt she was ready for the big plume, she came to New York and competed with 150 other singers for a vocal spot on the Jimmy Durante radio show, landing the job. After that she appeared with such stars as Danny Kaye, Eddie Cantor, Bob Hope and Milton Berle. Her big break came with her 13th recording, "Kiss of engagements poured in from clubs in both this country and Europe.

She said samples will be taken at bulk plants and creameries soon. In this way entire herds which are not infected can be eliminated without a farm-to-farm check and infected cattle will show up faster.

Wiseman said, "It's quicker and more economical."

He also reported that owners of beef cattle can request free blood tests by contacting the mobile laboratory.

As of yesterday 290 Pickaway county herds had been screened by the ring test and 17 were suspicious. The 17 herds were made up of 473 cattle. In all, 4,408 cows have been checked to date which is approximately half of the county's cattle population.

Three years ago 22 per cent of the milk samples taken were suspicious; last year it was 8.5 suspicious and this year the percentage is about 5.9, indicating the farmers are cooperating in the program effectively.

HANDLING the work in the mobile laboratory is Fred Zeigler, technician in charge. Working with him are a secretary and a bottle washer.

A new law, which went into effect July 24, puts "teeth" into the Brucellosis eradication program. Wiseman said. He hopes that within a few years the disease will be wiped out altogether.
